GIRLS CADET COLLEGE JHANG

Class 8th to FSc

PREAMBLE

“Why should a boy or a girl join Cadet College?”.

This is a question that is frequently asked by parents and students alike. By examining the history and purpose of these esteemed institutions, the benefits become clear.

In the aftermath of the partition of the Indian Subcontinent in 1947, Pakistan was faced with a shortage of skilled human resources to lead the country. This led to the establishment of specialized educational institutions, including Cadet Colleges, which are dedicated to developing skilled human resources. These institutions prioritize the development of physical fitness, mental, ethical, spiritual, and social attributes in young learners through a range of cultural, co-curricular, and extracurricular programs.

While imparting education is a key focus, it is not the only goal of Cadet Colleges. The aim is to develop well-rounded individuals who are competent to take on future challenges and to serve the nation with their talents. Cadet Colleges are renowned for producing talented and disciplined individuals who are well-equipped to contribute to society.

Graduates of Cadet Colleges have excellent opportunities to join the Armed Forces and other national institutions. They are also playing important roles in other key fields such as civil administration, diplomacy, politics, banking sectors, teaching, media, journalism, legal and medical profession, etc.

The excellence of Cadet Colleges in providing quality education is especially notable in the current context of Pakistan where it is challenging to maintain the same standard. Cadet Colleges offer comprehensive character-building programs alongside a high-quality education, ensuring that every learner finds a prosperous aim in life.

Overall, the Cadet Colleges have become synonymous with offering quality education and producing brilliant and well-disciplined pupils. It is a remarkable accomplishment that has undoubtedly contributed to the nation's progress and growth. Those who have the opportunity to study in a Cadet College are fortunate and have a duty to utilize their abilities to take the country to new heights.

INTRODUCTION OF CADET COLLEGE JHANG

Cadet College Jhang, established on September 10, 2007, stands as the first Cadet College in Central Punjab, Pakistan. The institution offers a comprehensive education program from class 8th to F.Sc, and is affiliated and recognized by Pakistan Armed Forces and Federal Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education.
